

Position Statement – Currently Proposed Lake District National Park Extension

During Initial Discussions which took place prior to the formation of the Copeland GDF Working Group it was recognised that a proposal had been submitted to Natural England in 2019 for a southern extension to the Lake District National Park.

“The Copeland GDF Working Group will initially consider the whole of the Borough of Copeland and adjacent inshore area up to 22km from the coastline, with the exclusion of the area within the boundary of the Lake District National Park and any future extension”.

To help clarify this, the title of the original Initial Evaluation Report for this area, that pre-dated the formation of the Working Group, will be updated to remove an earlier reference to a named location within that area (Ghyll Scaur Quarry).
