Gala 2020 - Cancelled

The Village Hall Management Committee have made the difficult decision to cancel this year's Gala. Hopefully circumstances may change over the next few months, the Village Hall will then look to see what options are open to the holding some events. Please watch this space........

VE Day celebrations to be cancelled but opportunity to toast.....

"MY DEAR FRIENDS, THIS IS YOUR HOUR." Winston Churchill on VE Day

We are also encouraging all those taking part to undertake the 'Nation's Toast to the Heroes of WW2' at 3pm on the 8th May, from the safety of their own home by standing up and raise a glass of refreshment of their choice and undertake the following 'Toast' – "To those ho gave so much, we thank you," using this unique opportunity to pay tribute to the many millions at home and abroad that gave so much to ensure we all enjoy and share the freedom we have today.

However, you could take part in celebrations safely from home by joining your BBC Local Radio station initiative in making your own VE Day Great British Bunting. Download everything you need at bbc.co.uk/makeadifference

Looking Beyond Covid-19 - Community Plan Update: Proposed Play Park:

The Community Plan called for a play area for children. We have been busy researching costs and the implications of creating this valued space for the community. The following picture is only an illustration of what a local park might look like. We are still in the process of seeking further bids but the lock down has clearly brought such activities to a stand still. We will keep you updated as the park design and build becomes clearer after Covid-19. please contact oandacontact@gmail.com with any comments you may have.

When lock down ends...One of the community plan actions was to pursue better connections between our communities, particularly provision for safe cycle routes. Tentative plans for organising a bicycle check workshop and group ride on lightly trafficked (and not too hilly!) route in our area have been stalled first by very inclement weather and then coronavirus restrictions. Looking to the future it would be useful to understand how much interest there would be in a workshop to conduct simple adjustments and checks on bicycle road worthiness and also a group bicycle ride. Please contact Out and About (oandacontact@gmail.com) with what help you might need to get your bike out of the shed or garage and on back on the road and also if you would like to take part in a led ride for which we will be walking together up hills!

Another Sunkenkirk

Most will be familiar with the spectacular stone circle at Swinside, also known as Sunkenkirk. W Hutchinson in his 'The History of the County of Cumberland' (of 1794), refers to Sunkenkirks. He indicates that '... to the South of Swinside is another circle of larger dimensions, but not so perfect a state'. This circle has been described as consisting of 22 stones with a diameter of 30m. CW Dymond, who excavated Swinside in 1901, apparently tried to find the second circle but was unsuccessful. Later researchers suggest that this circle lay on the northern slopes of the Mount (at the top of Buckman Brow and near Ash House). Now all that remains of this circle is 2 stones, approximately 1m high and 30m apart. At the bottom of the hill to the North are what could be several of the stones. In past times stones from such circles were broken up for use in walling or other structures.

The remaining stones are marked on the OS map as 'standing stones'. One of the stones can be seen from below on the public footpath leading from Duddon Bridge Iron Works to Ash House. Please note that the site of this circle is on private land.

Road Side Verges - How Might you help the Environment?

With the coincidence of social distancing and dry weather there has been much gardening. However, for the sake of our wildlife it is important not to tidy too much: more than 60% of the plants and animals in the UK are now under threat and one in eight face extinction. Roadside verges are a sanctuary for wildflowers, pollinating insects, reptiles and small mammals and provide essential green corridors for these species to disperse.

Wildflowers don't need fertilizers to thrive but prefer poor soil and this is one reason why they are found on roadside verges. In soils that are rich a few plants such as hogweed and nettle grow so well that other wildflowers can't compete with them. A few tips to enhance our roadside verges are below and there is further information available on line, such as at https://www.cumbria.gov.uk/eLibrary/Content/Internet/534/38749919.pdf

How can you help to conserve our roadside verges and provide better for precious wildlife? Avoid blanket spraying of verges. Avoid driving on verges. This kills plants and damages the soil structure. Avoid excessive cutting of verges: If you have a verge by your property, don't waste time and energy turning it into a lawn but instead leave wildflowers to grow. Cut verges later in the year when wild flowers have seeded. Although it might seem like a public-spirited thing to do, please don't plant bulbs or other cultivated plants on roadside verges but keep them in your garden.

Take an interest in your local verges, and talk to others about what you see, especially if you see damage to verges

News From The Hill

I can report on good weather and a fabulously slow pace of life here in the Hill, and lots of gardening and baking being done! What more can I say, except be thankful that we are in the sunshine, away from the centres of activity. Our thoughts are with all those having hard times at the moment.

A little poem, courtesy of Philip Larkin, that seems applicable for these times.

Days

What are days for?
Days are where we live.
They come, they wake us
Time and time over.
They are to be happy in:
Where can we live but days?
Ah, solving that question
Brings the priest and the doctor
In their long coats
Running over the fields.

Garden waste collections to start

COPELAND Council will start its garden waste collection service on Monday, May 4.Despite significant challenges, collections of refuse and recycling have continued as normal during the Coronavirus outbreak. While the start of garden waste collections has been delayed as the council took steps to protect these critical services, households will now receive a green waste collection every four weeks. Mike Starkie, Mayor of Copeland, said: "We're delighted to be in a position to start the garden waste service, which we know is highly-valued by residents.

"We took the difficult – yet necessary – decision to delay the start of the service so we could concentrate our depleted resources on critical services of collecting your household waste and recycling, while at the same time trying to understand and manage what impact the virus was having. "I commend all our Recycling and Waste staff for their commitment and dedication during this challenging time." We need all of our vehicles – including those that would ordinarily be dedicated to garden waste – to deliver our waste and recycling service in order for our collections crews to adhere to the Government's social distancing regulations. We have now secured extra vehicles, and although staffing levels remain challenging and we're operating at around 20 per cent below capacity, we can now start collecting your garden waste. "We appreciate your patience and understanding in the delayed start to this seasonal service, but the well-being of our workforce will always be our number one priority, and we're incredibly proud of the services we have continued to deliver."

The green recycling crews will operate on revised collection rounds each day. Half of households will receive their collection on their scheduled day over the first two weeks (w/c May 4 and 11) and the other half on their scheduled day over the second two weeks (w/c May 18 and 25) and so on. Further details on how residents can find out which week their bin will be collected will be communicated in due course. The council is restricting collections to the contents of residents' brown bins only, and is unable to take any excess garden waste which cannot fit into the bin. Mr Starkie added: "We urge you to continue being considerate to our crews. We understand you may have accumulated an excess amount of waste during the past weeks, but overloading your brown bin with abnormal amount of matter or weight will cause potential damage to the bin, but more seriously, to one of our crew. We advise residents who have excess garden waste to leave it in bags/containers, then re-fill your bin once it has been emptied. "Our Recycling and Waste crews are doing an outstanding job in incredibly difficult circumstances, and we're truly grateful for the support they are receiving throughout the borough. From drawings on display in windows, to kind messages on social media, to free deliveries of bacon sandwiches and pies from local caterers; your kindness means a lot to the team."For a list of materials that can be included within garden waste, visit www.copeland.gov.uk/garden-bin-collectionsThe council's collections of bulky waste items will also resume on Monday, May 4. It costs £27 to have three items collected. Please call 01946 598300 or email info@copeland.gov.uk to arrange.
